

MAINLAND REINFORCING PROJECT TEAM

Shanon Stuut

Otago/Southland Area Manager

With more than two decades of experience in the construction industry, Shanon began his career as an apprentice carpenter before ascending to the role of Project Superintendent for a prominent construction company in New Zealand. This rich background has made him an invaluable asset to Mainland Reinforcing, where his deep understanding of large-scale construction and frequent interactions with reinforcing have swiftly enhanced his expertise in our specific domain.

Shanon's strength lies not only in his knowledge but also in his hands-on leadership style, always eager to step out of the office and actively contribute on-site.
